WHAT'S "GAPPING"?

THE DISTANCE GAME

You have probably noticed how the major brand golf companies are claiming their irons as the "longest ever". One company in particular started this trend and the rest have had to follow suit. They have done this simply by taking a 6 iron head and stamping it as a 7. Some even make the "7 iron" a "6 iron" length. The big question is WHY???

Lowering the lofts will make a golf club go farther - but it will also make the golf club more difficult to control. Remember the old 4 iron you had trouble getting in the air? Well that now says 5 on it and you can't get that club in the air either. Another useless club in your bag.

Let's take a look at what an iron is supposed to do. Very simply, an iron is designed to hit the ball a specific distance, at a specific target, with accuracy. If you cannot reach the target, take one more club (hopefully a KZG custom fitted club) and you can reach it.

The important part of being fit for your irons is so that each iron gives you a specific distance...we call this "gapping". It really doesn't matter what the number says on the bottom of the club. What matters is that the club consistently goes the same distance every time...just as you expect it to do.

If you are having difficulty hitting your irons with consistency come see us at KZG in Palm Desert or go to your nearest KZG clubfitter and get yourself correctly fitted for your set of irons.

SOLID CONTACT = IRON CONSISTENCY

Former Tour player and British PGA Professional Brad Whalen will demonstrate how you can control your distances by making more solid contact with the ball. Please bring your #7 iron so that you can test for yourself the control you can master ... and you will be able to test other irons that fit you and your swing style even better!

Brad Whalen

HOLE IN ONE CLUB

Jennifer Shamlock made her first hole in one at The Citrus using her KZG LCB #9 iron fitted by Brad Whalen one week after getting her new KZG clubs.

Her fitter Brad Whalen coincidentally made a hole in one the same week at The First Tee, hole #2 using a KZG ME pitching wedge.

Congrats to both!!

GOLF JOKE OF THE MONTH

Husband and wife were playing in the mixed foursomes. He hit a great drive down the middle - she sliced the second shot into a bunch of trees. Unfazed he played a brilliant recovery shot which went onto the green a yard from the pin. She poked at the putt and sent it five yards beyond the pin. He lined up the long putt and sank it. To his wife he said, "We'll have to do better. That was a bogey five."

"Don't blame me," she snapped, "I only took two of them."

Hope to see you soon!

Cheers,

Jennifer & Bruce
